

PRICE ONE CENT.

6 O'CLOCK EXTRA.

TALMAGE RESIGNS.

His Withdrawal in the Hands of the Tabernacle's Elders.

His Discouraging Experience in Rebuilding Churches.

He May Preach to "All People Without Price."

Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, which was recently burned to the ground, has written a letter to the elders of the church asking them to accept his resignation.

T. De Witt Talmage.

Following is a copy of the letter:

To the session of the Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Dear Brethren:

I hereby ask you to join with me in a request to the Brooklyn Brethren that they disavow the pastoral relation now existing.

The congregation of the Brooklyn Tabernacle has been destroyed. It is not right that I should call upon them to build a fourth church during my ministry.

I advise that you do one of two things—either call a new pastor, under whose leadership the church might be built, or that you remain in organization until you can give certificates of membership to my people, so that they may be united with you in the same way.

As for myself, I will, as Providence may direct, either take another pastoral or go into general evangelistic work, preaching the Gospel to all people without money and without price.

Thanking you for your ever generous kindness to me and mine, and hoping to be re-associated with you in the heavenly world, together with the multitude with whom we have associated during the last twenty-five years, I am, yours in the Gospel,

T. De Witt Talmage.

The session, according to an intimate friend of the famous preacher, met Dr. Talmage last night and agreed to receive the resignation of the pastor.

This is a practical acceptance of the resignation.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG THIEF.

Mackell Confessed to Robbing His Employer and Shot Himself.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ASTORIA, L. I., Nov. 8.—Frederick Mackell, eighteen years old, the son of Charles Mackell, who keeps a saloon at 105 Fulton avenue, committed suicide at Woolsey Point, opposite Herkner's Island, probably last Tuesday morning, by shooting himself in the head.

The young man ended his life because he had robbed his employer of small sums of money and exposure was inevitable.

He worked for Leo Herald, a butcher, after the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

After the flight.

REQUIEM FOR THE DEAD CZAR.

Impressive Services at the Greek Chapel in This City.

Prince Gallitzin and Other Distinguished Persons Attend.

The little Greek Orthodox Chapel, 21 West Fifty-third street, was crowded to the doors this morning with probably the most distinguished congregation ever gathered under its roof.

The occasion was the celebration of requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late Alexander III.

Prince Gregory Gallitzin, a member of the Imperial Council of Russia and a Lieutenant-General in the Russian army, and his brother, Prince Alexander Gallitzin, together with representatives from all the foreign consulates in the city and a number of distinguished persons who had been invited, were present.

The Consuls and Vice-Consuls wore their brilliant uniforms, covered with gold lace and a number of them had decorations and insignia of honorary orders pinned to their coats.

The chapel, a plain two-story brick building, overshadowed by the more pretentious adjoining dwelling-house, was draped in mourning.

Over the entrance was a shield bearing the Russian coat-of-arms, resting on a background of Russian and American flags. Potted plants and flowers had been liberally used to decorate the church interior.

On either side of the altar were large wreaths of evergreen, from which trailed broad black ribbons, bearing the following inscription: "Oct. 26—Nov. 1, 1881." Baron Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons were seated in the front of the church.

The services, which began at 10:30, were conducted by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

REQUIEM FOR THE DEAD CZAR.

Impressive Services at the Greek Chapel in This City.

Prince Gallitzin and Other Distinguished Persons Attend.

The little Greek Orthodox Chapel, 21 West Fifty-third street, was crowded to the doors this morning with probably the most distinguished congregation ever gathered under its roof.

The occasion was the celebration of requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late Alexander III.

Prince Gregory Gallitzin, a member of the Imperial Council of Russia and a Lieutenant-General in the Russian army, and his brother, Prince Alexander Gallitzin, together with representatives from all the foreign consulates in the city and a number of distinguished persons who had been invited, were present.

The Consuls and Vice-Consuls wore their brilliant uniforms, covered with gold lace and a number of them had decorations and insignia of honorary orders pinned to their coats.

The chapel, a plain two-story brick building, overshadowed by the more pretentious adjoining dwelling-house, was draped in mourning.

Over the entrance was a shield bearing the Russian coat-of-arms, resting on a background of Russian and American flags. Potted plants and flowers had been liberally used to decorate the church interior.

On either side of the altar were large wreaths of evergreen, from which trailed broad black ribbons, bearing the following inscription: "Oct. 26—Nov. 1, 1881." Baron Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons were seated in the front of the church.

The services, which began at 10:30, were conducted by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the local pastor, Father Agababazas, the services were simple, consisting of a requiem mass, a reading of the Gospels, and a series of prayers for the soul of the deceased.

The responses were sung by an amateur choir, composed of Mrs. Linoff, Mr. Schurucker and Dr. Peter Papoff.

Among those present were Baron and Baroness de Schellpach, Russian Vice-Consul, Mr. Percy Sanderson, British Consul-General, and other distinguished persons.

The requiem mass was read by Father Miklof, a monk of the Greek Church, attached to the diocese of San Francisco, and who is en route to Europe.

By the